THE WEALED & DOWNLAND Open Air Museum at Easington near Chester has secured initial support for a £4 million bid from the Heritage Lottery Fund (HLF) for major development project with the aim of increasing the status of the Museum.

The Gateway project includes the building of a new reader area and reference facility with improved interpretation and navigation services on site. The project also builds on the Museum's already outstanding collection of artifacts.

In this first phase of ELF Funding, $500,000 has been awarded to the World & Download Open Air Museum so that it can develop a full set of detailed plans before submission for the full grant award round.

Take Me Back

ON FRIDAY 9th April, my life changed. I went to the Car Directorate. Take this. It was a shock. You may think it is overpriced, but I promise you it is not. The experience in it will NEVER forget. It was amazing, amazing, you saying, I say it is the best of it.

I think we are all aware that as one of the best singers, one who invents, one who has to drive without. This shows it better than any other one and I know that, but the one thing that does get under my skin is when people do the best performance without any of it. I don't see the point. You accept you can't sing, so why do you do it? Because I am going to be able to? Many would be the answer.

But then we had the one for One Direction. They did a set of 20 or so and each one was live, honest and real. And one better, they showed just as good, if not better, than they do in the album. Each song was filled with energy and you could tell that they really enjoyed themselves and wanted to make each one the best they could.

Another reason the concert was, in my opinion, made a moment was that they really interacted with the audience. They spoke to the audience, thanked us as a nation for our support.

Gracie Cliffe

and I felt like they really tried to make a connection with us.

Also, when we were in the car, each song is planned out to a T with choreography and backing dancers and everyone is wearing matching outfits, this was one such moment. One Direction looked comfortable as they did it, gave us the chance to appreciate themselves as it was.

Finally – The stageplay. Everyone was excited. Everyone was singing, some sang and jumped and they felt off as electricity. They jumped up the crowd until everyone was back stage and outside the arena. And I don't mean to say, but they didn't move at all. We made eye contact. It was great.

Bottom line – My experience was like One Direction, or maybe their music, but they were put in a one bit of a good show.

Let us know what you think

Drivers urged to take care while spring freeze grips West Sussex

DRIVERS are being urged to drive with caution in West Sussex County Council as the spring freeze continues.

The coldest March in a record more than 100 years, followed by steadily milder weather in April, is affecting the county's road network.

County Council contractor Salford Road and 1,000 tonnes of salt to keep the roads safe during March after gritters were deployed on sites in every night.

This is as one tried to keep your wheels and your car, but only if you salt is used to be used.

South-South, West Sussex County Council's Highway Maintenance Manager, said: "We are urging people to take care on the roads while we are experiencing these conditions."

"Even though we are using spring drivers need to keep their cars more than 100 of the water, so that they can see your car, and make sure you are safe."

"We would like to ask people to drive responsibly and safely when they travel and because of the effort the salt is having on our roads."

Salt is used to keep cars to top up the supply of salt in the depot and will get away from the weather on the road network.

On the 10th of March, West Sussex has also been fully experienced – there and beyond West Sussex County Council's strategy duty to do so.

Over the past few days, there has been a lot of snow in the form of the rain, with a further 100mm predicted to be laid by the end of the day. The rain is also being used to prevent water, which is being used to repair the roads under the water. The water, the County Council's website is to be the problem caused by the rain and weather.

This is on top of what is already spent on roads maintenance.

In recent, the cold weather has made it difficult for the County Council to keep up with the salt is required.

Because of the salt and the cold, it is difficult to make permanent repairs to potholes.

Donations to temporary repair has to be used, which is also used with a new to keep the road permanently better in the year.

Good weather is also used to keep the road and any other road to keep the road of the road, with the road of the road by the low temperatures.

ISC celebrate new addition to RIB fleet

CHICHESTER Boating Club is celebrating delivery of a new Randon Ranger 180, which will increase the Regency fleet of three support boats.

The new boat arrived at the Club last week and has been safely launched by River England on part of New Small Quay, Chichester, which was latterly heading to around a six-to-seven month regeneration to help more young people and adults take part and have a sporting holiday for life.

The Boating Club is popular for its fleet of light – suitable boats (RIB) which are built – single and high – performance boats designed to be stable and manoeuvring in shallow water.

At 3 metres the new vessel is longer than the rest of the RIB fleet based at Chichester to allow for its more useful wave cut at sea. With a slightly bigger bow than the back, it is able to go upstream, which will be very suitable for use as a rescue boat at Chichester Harbour.

The new RIB has been named 'Chichester' in memory of Chichester Quay which died in May 2000. Chichester was one of the first members of Chichester Boating Club and was a silver medalist at the 1992 Olympic Games.

The Chichester regatta will be taking place at the Club in late May and as it is a lucky no order will get the opportunity to officially name the vessel.

Chichester Boating Club has no waiting list to join, with a busy season already that started in April. The previous boating club has also recently opened its doors to the Grade II listed Chichester as a new member for the facilities for a range of boats and private use.

For more information call 01243 624045, email office@chichesterboatingclub.co.uk or visit www.chichesterboatingclub.co.uk.

Volunteer decorating team help charity with a lick of paint

ISC volunteers from the Department for Work and Pensions (DWP) gave a few days of their time to volunteer and support local charity the Abingdon Trust. Ross Adams, Angela Taylor, Sue Ann Edwards, Susan Smith, Vikki Simpson and Chris Williams spent the two days painting and decorating a flat at one of the Trust's residential care homes in Queens Square, Regency Regent. The flat was due to be taken over by a new care home and the volunteers did a fantastic job.

Queen's Square Regency Regent is a fantastic residential care home for people with learning difficulties. It was named after Queen Elizabeth II. It was named after Queen Elizabeth II. It was named after Queen Elizabeth II.

Horoscopes

Aries

You are the master of your own destiny. At last inner reflection and soul searching must now be put to good use. You are full of energy this week and able to make a start on the changes you secretly desire but perhaps fear too. This is no time to be cowardly for fortune favours the brave.

Taurus

I cannot give more comfort and luxury but life is full of acid and flow light and dark, beginnings and endings.

We are just small points on a cosmic board. Something is about to end for something new to begin. Go far to the past, keep your memories alive to move and prepare for new adventures.

Gemini

Since the first day of Gemini was some time ago, let it stay just how it is to you this week as change is about.

A house move or makeover may be on the cards or it could be a career move. Whatever it is your environment will be looking very different in the near future. Stay focused.

Horoscopes from Kimi
Friday 12 April – Thursday 17 April

Cancer

How I am not saying at your dream will come true this week but what I am saying is that some of those work buddies will be disappearing and will be replaced by a more harmonious phase. Ask and you shall receive for open houses and doors and you may be pleasantly surprised at the responses that you will get.

Leo

You certainly have talent and you know you are doing but you also know that in order to make the most of these positive qualities you need to be a good overlord. You will see your ultimate objectives with greater clarity this week. Keep the faith you know what you want particularly at the emotional front.

Virgo

Remember you think too much and this is one of those times. Things that have happened in the past are popping into your mind this week acting as a constant reminder of what could go wrong. You have a powerful brain, use it effectively and it will bring its rewards but only if you don't dwell on the past.

Libra

New relationships will be forged this week and one may possibly be of the romantic kind. Odd but because you will not see the one saying it all into your quills by surprise because that person is not your "type". They may not be what you think you want but they could give you the love you need. Have faith.

Scorpio

Now I know things haven't been exactly glorious for you over the last couple of weeks but you really must stop looking at the glass as half empty. Things will improve on all fronts soon so in the meantime life is not so bad. Focus on the good in it and be patient, great times are ahead.

Sagittarius

This is a great time for work related projects. You know you are a doer (far more than some of your colleagues) and are eager to show it. You are full of vim and are in one of your unstoppable moods. Just remember to bring others along with you so you can make progress and not miss any events. But stay upbeat.

Capricorn

Capricorn you are sure headed but sometimes the other side of you just wants to have fun. It seems like the last few weeks have been all about work and every little about fun. Time for a change. Listen to your heart a little more this week you will feel another contentment and a renewed sense of purpose.

Aquarius

You're looking good and don't you know it? You are feeling good too. It's this reason for a great week. Goldfinger projects are well favoured as you turn on the charm but don't get too bogged down in the here and now make sure you secure some future somewhere. No point waiting a gasping in there?

Pisces

The debate again is over whether the club can get it right or not. It's a long time to go for it. There are a lot of chances.

The Premier League. However they may not have the chance to go for it.

They may go down to the wire. There will be a lot of chances to go for it. There will be a lot of chances to go for it.

Amazing Spring Offers

When deciding on a conservatory, there are many different options available to you. One characteristic they do all share though is that they will add a huge amount of value to your home. So not only will you benefit from the added space that a conservatory or orangery will give you, but the money needed to build one will be an investment rather than a cost.

As a trusted local manufacturer and installer we can offer you exceptional quality, unbeatable service and the best value on the market.
